DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-10 and 23-32 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The Board of Appeals and Interferences reversed Examiner on decision filed 06/29/2010 for Claims 1 and 23. The BPAI held that the prior art failed to teach a system wherein after adding additional storage devices to the initial set, the logical addresses for the addresses in the initial set of storage devices that were not transferred remained the same as previously while maintaining the balanced access. Most notably, the issue was focused whether Jacobson, U.S. Patent No: 5,615,352 in combination of Non-Patent Literature Karger anticipated "redistributing the logical addresses...while maintaining the same logical addresses for the logical addresses in the initial set of storage devices that are not transferred to the additional device."
3. Jacobson reference teaches a system and method for redundant data storage that involves adding a storage device to an initial set of storage devices to create an extended set of storage devices. Jacobson teaches reconfiguring into an expanded "stripe" for storing predetermined amount of data. The expanded "stripe" spans across all storage disks, including the new storage disks. Virtual storage spaces are updated and physical storage spaces are remapped.
4. Karger reference discloses consistent hashing, a method that maintains a balanced load across hashes. Neither Jacobson nor Karger per BPAI teaches that only data that needs to be moved to a new disk is actually transferred. Jacobson's data is moved when storage disks are added to the system, and there is no teaching that the "another portion of the physical disk storage space" in Jacobson is limited in any way to the new storage disks. Therefore, Jacobson is not maintaining the same logical address for the logical addresses in the initial set of storage devices that are not transferred to the additional storage devices as recited in independent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
